President Loewenstein called the meeting called to order at 3:10 pm

- I. Charlie Hill provided an update on the name change of “Lifelong Learning and Community Engagement” to “Online and Continuing Education (OCE).” They want a name that more accurately reflects what they do and the curricula they offer. A formal proposal (Form C) is forthcoming.
- II. Brian Kermath (Director of Sustainability) gave a presentation on the planning for the Sustainability Institute (SI), including a draft of their mission and goals. Their committee (represented by Elizabeth Barron and Jim Feldman) solicited input from Senators. Several senators asked questions about the focus of the SI, as well as how goals would be met and success measured. External consultants currently are being interviewed.
- III. Reports from governance groups:
 - a. Senate of Academic Staff (Senator Marine). No report (meeting on Thu. 8-Dec.)
 - b. University Staff Senate (Senator Hartel). No report (meeting on Wed. 14-Dec.)
 - c. OSA (Senator Cartwright). OSA is discussing the possibility of a personal firearm storage facility on campus. Discussions are being held with Campus Police. The use of license plate readers instead of parking stickers is being discussed. OSA Executive Committee is working a proposal to have UW Oshkosh recognized as a “bike-friendly” campus. A resolution was passed by both the Senate and Assembly to support the Standing Rock protesters in North Dakota.
- IV. Roth/Rutz moved to approve the 22-Nov-2016 Minutes.

Minutes approved as amended.

- V. Unfinished Business
 - a. Biennial Program Assessment Report. The motion from 8-Nov-2016 meeting was removed from the table for discussion. Carleen Vande Zande discussed changes to the current draft of the report. This included discussion of culminating experiences for students (e.g., capstone, internship, or other experience). A rubric for integrated learning assessment was studied by their working group. There is not funding for departments to develop new courses, so they would like programs to examine which existing courses might meet the goals and outcomes (either as the courses currently exist, or with minor changes). They respect that each major likely will accomplish goals differently. The integrated learning objectives and outcomes will be incorporated into departmental assessment plans (biennially). Faculty development ($500) will be offered to individuals who propose to work on how their program will conform with the policy (and document these plans).

Bentivenga/Sipes moved to amend the motion to replace the language regarding the reporting of integrated learning outcomes (in Section One, Integrated Learning bullet point): “Describe the program’s culminating experience and identify program-specific integrated learning outcomes that can be measured and assessed (see definitions and rubric at the end of the document).”

Motion passed unanimously.

Liz Whalley discussed the changes to the report to the section on advising.

Original motion to approve the amended document approved unanimously.
