Managing Ethics & Boundaries with a Clinical Lens

FRIDAY, SEPT. 22, 2023 • 9 A.M.-1 P.M.

Presented by Jeanne Wagner, MSW, LCSW, ACSW

The management of professional ethics and boundaries can be challenging in clinical work, especially as we have become more dependent on the use of technology. This workshop will address the unique issues encountered during the provision of clinical services and will discuss best practice approaches to these challenges.

Harm Reduction: Challenging Myths in Healing Addiction

FRIDAY, OCT. 20, 2023 • 9 A.M.-1 P.M.

Presented by Marian Frick Rigsbee, LCSW, MAC

No matter one's role as a helping professional, we will encounter substance use disorders and have an ethical obligation to reduce harm associated with them. Many great achievements have been made in improving human health, yet substance use disorders are still the leading preventable cause of death in the Western world. This seminar will review historical approaches to addictions and explore in depth the most powerful, yet misunderstood approach: harm reduction.

Difficult Conversations: Beyond Basic Motivational Interviewing

FRIDAY, NOV. 17, 2023 • 9 A.M.-1 P.M.

Presented by Melinda Marasch, LCSW

Motivational Interviewing is an evidence-based therapeutic approach for therapists and non-therapist direct care staff. Learn practical application of foundational Motivational Interviewing concepts and approaches that you can implement immediately. These approaches assist in efficiently and effectively developing rapport, meeting the client where they are and supporting mandated and voluntary clients toward behavior change.
