From the President

Dear LIR Members,

The past year had “stabilization” as an unofficial theme, and LIR has succeeded. The content of the sessions was exceptional, as usual. The hybrid sessions have hit their stride as well. Expansion in the Fox Valley area was made, and coordination with other organizations in that area allowed content expansion to increase neurologic and mental health topics, introducing new resources to the membership.

The Curriculum Committee chair, Lee Prellwitz initiated an email reminder system for upcoming sessions, which also notified the enrolled members if the session had to be altered.

Just for fun, some sessions had door prizes associated with them to celebrate LIR’s 25 years (actually within the 26th year).

But LIR always needs ongoing attention to the program for the long-term future.

The next need of LIR is reestablishing strong tour content both for educational and fiscal needs. This means more members participating in Curriculum Committee activities. Expansion of total membership also requires attention to expand at an increased pace. Progress has been made in these issues, but I would ask all members to reflect on what they can contribute to our long-term growth and stabilization.

Thank you for your contributions and participation, and we hope to see all of you in the coming semester.

Jim Krueger
President

11) Left/Right versus Top/Down

In the U. S., it is very common for political parties to argue that the media has a right or left bias. Dr. Palmeri shows how both sides are wrong. He will argue that a better way of looking at media is from a "top/bottom" perspective. He will provide a method for discovering bias and will urge support of media that are biased toward the "bottom." Supporting such media is critical for the survival of democracy.

Date: Thursday, September 21, 2023

Time: 1:30 - 3:00 p.m.

Presenter: Dr. Tony Palmeri

Coordinator: Nathalie Moore

Location: Evergreen

12) Tribal Leadership: How It Can Make Organizations More Effective

Lauren Busalacchi will discuss how she has implemented the Tribal Leadership culture model with the Ripon College Women's Basketball team, and how she utilizes Tribal Leadership as a technique in her coaching. She will explain the five steps of the Tribal Leadership model and how the practical application of those five steps has contributed to the team's five consecutive Midwest Conference championships.

There are many lessons we can all learn from our favorite four-legged creatures including friendship, work, and self-care. Join local author Carmen Leal as she shares about her journey from being a non-dog lover to an animal activist and how she discovered the value of unconditional love, the importance of living in the moment, and most importantly, not forgetting to enjoy the ride along the way.

Date: Tuesday, September 26, 2023

Time: 1:30 - 3:00 p.m.

Presenter: Carmen Leal, author

Coordinator: Nathalie Moore

Location: Miravida – Chapel 225 N Eagle Street, Oshkosh

15) Mosquito Hill Tour: Urban Mammals: Sharing Our Space with the Wild Ones

Contrary to popular belief, wild animals are not restricted to forests and nature centers. Many of Wisconsin's mammal species thrive in urban settings thanks to an abundant food supply and ample shelter that we humans unwittingly provide for them. Naturalist Jessica Miller will introduce you to our most abundant urban mammals, explain why some are deemed a "nuisance" and discuss options for a peaceful coexistence with these critters in your own backyard.

Presenter: Chef Jason, Evergreen Retirement Community

Location: Evergreen

Cost: $20

27) Caregiver Burnout

What does burnout really mean? Not everyone who is a caregiver considers themselves a caregiver. "I'm just a wife, or daughter, or son, taking care of my loved one." Being a caregiver is just that, taking care of a loved one. You do it because you care. But sometimes, we stop caring for ourselves. Discuss how to take care of yourself while you take care of others and how to avoid burn out.

Date: Wednesday, October 25, 2023

Time: 10:00 – 11:15 a.m.

Presenter: Carrie Esselman, Grant Manager, Fox Valley Memory Project

35) America's National Debt

Everyone in America knows that our national debt is HUGE. Well, what is the consequence of this huge amount of debt? Don't other countries have debt burdens higher than ours? What determines the creditworthiness of a nation? Exactly who do we owe this money to? Furthermore, when we borrowed this money what did we spend it on? Should we repay the national debt? What is the consequence of repaying the national debt? Does government spending cause inflation? What is America's Exorbitant Privilege? Most states have constitutional requirements to balance their budgets every year. Should we pass a Constitutional Amendment to require the Federal Government to balance its budget - just like the states? Hmmm....

Date: Thursday, November 9, 2023

Time: 10:00 – 11:30 a.m.

Presenter: Ralph Gunderson, Professor (Ret) of Economics – UW Oshkosh

Coordinator: Lee Prellwitz

Location: Evergreen

36) LIR Playtime: "The Bridges of Madison County"

Enjoy a pre-theater talk from 1:00-1:30 in James Perry Hall, UWO Fox Cities, followed by a 2:00 performance of "The Bridges of Madison County." Attendees will receive a $3.00 voucher for a beverage and sweet treat redeemable at the concession stand.

Based on the best-selling novel by Robert James Waller and developed by Tony Award winner Jason Robert Brown (The Last Five Years, Parade, Songs for a New World) and Pulitzer Prize winner Marsha Norman, "The Bridges of Madison County" captures the lyrical expanse of America's heartland along with the yearning entangled in the eternal question: "What if?" Winner of the 2014 Tony Award for Best Score and Orchestrations, this sweeping romance about the roads we travel, the doors we open and the bridges we dare to cross will leave audiences breathless. Run time is approximately 2 ¼ hours.

Coordinator: Julie Kiefer

Location: Oshkosh Seniors Center

39) American Expatriate Writers in Paris

Gertrude Stein once wrote, "America is my country, and Paris is my hometown." Indeed, Paris has exercised a magnetic attraction upon generations of artists and intellectuals, large numbers of whom migrated to the French capital from all over the world. The number of English-speaking expatriates has been especially impressive. During this talk, we will reflect on the history of American expatriate fiction, poetry, and music from the early- to mid- twentieth century by artists like F. Scott Fitzgerald, Ernest Hemingway, Gertrude Stein, Josephine Baker, Cole Porter, Louis Armstrong, Richard Wright, and James Baldwin. We will think about how these figures created a sense of community in Paris and changed the worlds of art and literature.

Date: Friday, November 17, 2023

Time: 10:00 – 11:30 am

Presenter: Christine Roth, Associate Professor of English

Coordinator: Nathalie Moore

Location: Evergreen

40) LIR PLAYTIME: "Private Lives"

Elyot and Amanda, once married and now honeymooning with new spouses at the same hotel, meet by chance, reignite the old spark, and impulsively elope. After days of being reunited, they find their romance alternating between passionate love and anger. Then their deserted spouses appear, and chaos ensues! A uniquely humorous play and a great audience pleaser!

Date: Sunday, November 19, 2023

Time: 2:00 p.m. Performance

Play by: Noël Coward

Coordinator: Mary Bayorgeon

Location: UW Oshkosh Theatre Arts Center, 1010 Algoma Blvd

Cost: $11

41) What does the Bible really say about LGBTQ?

The Bible should not be used to condemn members of the LGBTQ community. Genesis 19, Leviticus 18 and 20, (Sodom and Gomorrah) and Romans 1 (Paul's rejection of same sex activities) when understood in their original contexts clearly convey that these texts are condemning cruel or degrading behavior --- inhospitality to strangers, social injustice to the poor, rape, prostitution, forced sodomy and pederasty by pedophiles. The Bible is actually silent about consenting loving relationships by adult members of the same sex that are more publicly observed in contemporary society.

Date: Tuesday, November 21, 2023

Time: 10:00 – 11:30 a.m.

Presenter: Dr. Brian Smith – Professor Emeritus Religious Studies at Ripon College

Coordinator: Lee Prellwitz

Location: VIRTUAL ONLY

42) Public Health's Management of Covid-19

Because of the pandemic, public health departments have never been as visible -- or, as misunderstood. Over the last three years, public health agencies have provided knowledge and direction during the Covid-19 pandemic. The Winnebago County Health Department representatives will provide the story of the local management of this event and their ongoing role in maintaining local disease control.

Date: Wednesday, November 29, 2023

Time: 1:30 - 3:00 p.m.

Presenter: Heidi Keating, MPH, Lynnsey Erickson, MPA

Coordinator: Jim Krueger

44) Save the Elephants! Conservation in East Africa

African savannah elephants are an endangered species and often referred to as 'gardeners' in their ecosystems. This talk will cover the ecological role of elephants, their population status, their ability to teach us something about cancer, and the ongoing threats of the illegal ivory trade and habitat loss. Brad Spanbauer earned his Master's of Science degree from UWO and studies elephants as seed dispersers in Tarangire National Park in Tanzania and also spent a summer in Samburu National Reserve in central Kenya studying elephant population monitoring.

Date: Thursday, December 7, 2023

Time: 10:00 - 11:30 a.m.

Presenter: Bradley Spanbauer

Coordinator: Nathalie Moore

Location: Evergreen

45) The Wisconsin Supreme Court Judicial Selection Process

In the Supreme Court Judicial process, should we elect or appoint judges? Selecting judges via elections has resulted in the extreme politicization of the process, and the infiltration of large dollars (mainly dark money) into elections for judges. Judge vacancies can also be filled by appointment; but is there a better way? Retired State Supreme Court Justice Jon P. Wilcox spent 17 years on the Wisconsin Supreme Court. He will examine how judges are selected.

Date: Friday, December 8, 2023

Time: 10:00 – 11:30 am

Presenter: Justice Jon P. Wilcox, Retired Wisconsin Supreme Court

Coordinator: Lee Prellwitz

Location: UWO Culver Family Welcome Center, 625 Pearl Avenue, Oshkosh

46) Brewing, Pouring and the History of Beer in Oshkosh

Hear the story of the role that beer brewing played in the culture of Oshkosh by the person who actually "wrote the book".

Date: Monday, December 11, 2023

Time: 10:00-11:30 am

Presenter: Lee Reiherzer

Coordinator: Jim Krueger

49) Chef's Choice: Creating Diplomats - Model United Nations at UW Oshkosh

Model United Nations (MUN) has a long history at UW Oshkosh, dating back to 1965 when the first MUN team was formed. Since then, it has grown into an organization that provides students with a truly global experience that starts on the Oshkosh campus and continues when the team participates in conferences with college students from all over the world, culminating in an annual MUN competition in New York City. But how does it work? What do students do? And how does it help them in college and beyond? In this presentation, we will take a deep dive into the world of diplomacy and negotiation and explain how students at UW Oshkosh take their love of world politics and translate that into an unsurpassed college experience with lifelong impacts.

Date: Monday, January 8, 2024

Time: 12:15 – 2:30 p.m.

Presenter: Dr. Tracy Slagter

Coordinator: Nathalie Moore

Location: Evergreen; Cost: $15

50) Active Threat Preparedness

Anywhere people gather can be a place where there is a potential of an active threat. The session will include information on emergency practices, information sharing, awareness, and action steps for staying safe should you ever find yourself in an active threat situation. One of the presenters is the survivor of an active shooter incident that occurred in 2008 at Northern Illinois University.

Date: Tuesday, January 9, 2024

Time: 10:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. *This is a 90 minute presentation + 30 minutes for Q & A

Presenter: Chris Tarmann, Acting Chief of Police and Dr. Joseph Peterson, UWO Associate Geology Professor

Location: Oshkosh Seniors Center

51) Pollinators in Peril

More than 700 North American bee species are in decline. Monarch butterfly numbers are down more than 80% since the 1990's. Beekeepers around the world continue to experience unusually high bee losses every year since 2007. Are these losses a biblical prophecy coming true -- or is there a logical explanation? This program will cover the basics of plant-pollinator ecology, explanations for the decline, and what you can do to help.

Date: Thursday, January 11, 2024

Time: 10:00 – 11:30 a.m.

Presenter: Shannon Davis-Foust PhD, Lecturer, Department of Biology & Environmental Studies Program, UW Oshkosh

54) Hiking from Georgia to Maine; an Appalachian Trail Thru-Hike

Tim and Claire Aither, a father-daughter duo, spent six months of 2022 living out of one tent with nothing more than what they could carry in their backpacks as they embarked on a journey to thru-hike the Appalachian Trail. With elevation equivalent to hiking Mt. Everest sixteen times, Claire and Tim will share their experience "hiking into shape," living in the woods for half a year, and challenging themselves mentally and emotionally as they embarked through the infamous "green tunnel." Hear about their preparation, greatest struggles, and takeaways from this life-changing experience. You may even get to lift one of their backpacks!

Date: Friday January 19, 2024

Time: 1:30 – 3:00 p.m.

Presenter(s): Tim and Clare Aither

Coordinator: Lee Prellwitz

55) Health & Wellness FAQs Focused on Skin Health

Dr. Allen has received several questions about skin health recently. He will address skin health and other frequent questions he receives from LIR members and pharmacy customers. Examples of questions that will be addressed include:

- Is a multiple vitamin necessary?
- Is there a brand or type of multivitamin you recommend?
- Are there any specific lifestyle modifications to heal and improve skin?
- Are there specific nutraceuticals that heal and improve skin?
- I know SPF is important, but with what's out there between sunscreen, moisturizers, etc. is overwhelming. Is there a product you recommend?
- Are there any benefits to topical Vitamin C?

Date: Wednesday, January 24, 2024

Time: 10:00 - 11:30 am

Presenter: Dr. JJ Allen, PharmD, CISSN, Hometown Pharmacy

Course Delivery Instructions

Programs will be offered in a couple of different formats:

In-Person: If a location is listed, the program is in-person and that is the only option to view the program.

Hybrid: If the program is at Evergreen and says HYBRID that means you may choose to register to attend in-person or view the program virtually. You do not have to register if you know you will view it virtually. You may not have the same experience virtually, but you will be able to view it from the comfort of your home. Not every program at Evergreen is available virtually, as well.

Virtual: The presenter will be presenting from a remote location and the only way to view the program is on-line.

HOW TO LOG INTO VIRTUAL PROGRAMS

Start at the LIR Website home page: www.uwosh.edu/lir

1. Scroll down to the Curriculum Offerings Section and click on View Offerings (blue type)
2. On Curriculum Offerings page, scroll down and to the list of all courses being offered virtually.
3. To view a course, click on the words “Zoom Link” for the course you want to watch. You will then go directly to the program.

As a reminder, please turn off your camera and microphone when viewing the presentation. Closed caption is available, if you want to use it, click on “Live Transcript” and select subtitles.

To ask a question, click on the word “Chat” at the bottom of your screen and type in your question.
