

INTRODUCTION TO AMERICAN GOVERNMENT

105 | Fall Semester 2022 | 3 credits
Asynchronous Online Delivery

“Of our political revolution of '76, we all are justly proud. It has given us a degree of political freedom, far exceeding that of any other nation of the earth. In it the world has found a solution of the long-mooted problem, as to the capability of man to govern himself. In it was the germ which has vegetated, and still is to grow and expand into the universal liberty of mankind.”

Abraham Lincoln Temperance Address 1842

BASIC COURSE INFORMATION

Instructor: Jason T. Neumeyer

Bachelor of Science: University of Wisconsin Oshkosh (2016)

Master of Arts: University of Wisconsin Milwaukee (2020)

Office Hours (in-person): Wednesdays: 1-2pm or by appointment

Office Hours (virtual): MS Teams by appointment

Office Location: Sage 4636

Email: neumeyerj@uwosh.edu

REQUIRED TEXTBOOK

We the People: An Introduction to American Government, 14th Edition (Thomas E. Patterson).

Course Prerequisites: None – this course is open to students at any level and in all majors and is the first in a series of introductory courses in Political Science. In Introduction to Comparative Politics (84:101) we introduce students to the democratic and non-democratic political systems of several different states (e.g., Germany, China, Iran), taking a look inside each one to determine how they function. In Introduction to American Politics (84:105), we give students an in-depth look at the working of the American system of government. And in Introduction to International Relations (84:115), we show you how states work with and against each other in the global system. Political Science majors are required to take all three, but they stand independently so that non-majors can benefit from them as well.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

After successfully completing this course, students will be able to:

- Describe the major components of the United States government, including the Constitution and its interpretation, federalism, and the branches of government
- Examine key public policies and learn the roles of citizens, groups, and elections in the making of policy

- Learn about public policies at the national level, including social welfare, healthcare, and fiscal policies
- Develop deep knowledge about the fundamental principles of and central arguments about democracy over time as expressed in the United States

COURSE CATALOGUE DESCRIPTION

In this course, students will study the organization, principles, and actual working of the American National Government in all its branches.

FALL 2022 COURSE DESCRIPTION

Americans are divided now more than ever; however, the cleavages today run deeper than ideology and party. The melting pot of America seems to be boiling over, as divisive politics percolate further and further into every aspect of society: “bathrooms have become battlefields, and borders are battle lines” (AP). As politics in America seems to continue to disappoint, there is one potential remedy: civic knowledge. We need more citizens who understand American history and political practices, who think critically about what kind of community they want to live in, and engage in civil, productive dialogue with their fellow citizens to help bring those visions about. This course helps students hone their political knowledge by studying the institutions of American government, elections, and informal arrangements like political parties and interest groups. By studying the organization, principles, and actual working of the American national government, students will begin to develop their own understanding of what it means to think critically about politics and how best to put that knowledge into practice.

ONLINE COURSE ADJUSTMENTS

- Online Delivery – this course will be taught online via our class Canvas page
  - For questions regarding how to navigate Canvas please see the Canvas Help page:
<https://uwosh.edu/online/current-students/canvas-information/>
- Asynchronous Lectures –
  - We will not meet for live class periods throughout the semester
  - There will be a series of recorded lectures for this course which will introduce several key concepts and themes from our readings
    - I will post these recordings on Sunday evening prior to the week beginning – for example, when we cover federalism in Week 2 (September 19-23), you should expect my recorded outline for the week on September 18
  - Asynchronous learning allows for more flexibility in managing your time; however, it is important to keep up with the readings throughout the week to avoid falling behind

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I have adapted the ideas and language from the work of several educators for this syllabus and course material. For example, I have borrowed liberally from other courses in American Politics and related topics, as taught by George Waller, Tracy Slagter, James Krueger, Patrick Kraft, and others. I appreciate their contributions to the discipline and thank all educators who make their teaching material available to others to push for better pedagogical practices for all. To pay it forward, I will share my own material with anyone who is interested.

STANDARD COURSE POLICIES

Office Hours via Microsoft Teams:

The Political Science Department uses Microsoft Teams (MS Teams) for holding virtual office hours. This system is available to all UWO students. Faculty will be available during the hours noted on your syllabus. We hope that using MS Teams for office hours for all of our courses will help students become more accustomed to virtual office hours both during and after the pandemic.

When logging into MS Teams, look closely at the status symbols for your instructor. A green dot by the professor's icon (which may be their picture or their initials) means they are available. A red dot means they are busy. Generally, you are able to join office hour meetings and talk openly in the forum or use the chat function freely. At times, I may be in a private meeting with a student during office hours and will mark my availability as "busy" (a red dot).

Please use my office hours freely and often – I am here to help! Additionally, I will hold in-person office hours on Wednesdays throughout the semester from 1-2pm (Sage 4636). Please feel free to email me if you need to set up a time outside of these options.

Email Etiquette:

Just as you will have to do in a workplace setting, it is important to present yourself professionally in academic emails. In your emails to me, other faculty and staff, and your classmates, heed the following advice: (1) include a meaningful subject line; (2) begin your email with "Dear..."; (3) use proper titles, if necessary; (4) be specific about the action you would like the recipient to take; (5) sign your full name to the email or create a signature

If you decide to email me, please be sure that you have checked the syllabus first – instructors take a long time preparing these documents in hopes of answering many of the most common questions up front! For complicated matters, please visit me during my office hours.

Grievance Statement:

The Department of Political Science is committed to offering you a high-quality classroom experience, and we take your feedback very seriously. If you have concerns about anything related to this course, assignments, or teaching method, you are encouraged to first speak with your instructor directly. If you are not comfortable speaking with the instructor, you are invited to speak with the Chair of the Department of Political Science, Dr. James Krueger. He can be reached at kruegerj@uwosh.edu.

Disclosure Statement:

“Students are advised to see the following URL for disclosures about essential consumer protection items required by the Students Right to Know Act of 1990:
<https://uwosh.edu/financialaid/consumer-information/>.”

GRADING SCALE

I use a 93/90/87 grading scale in this course, meaning 93 is the cut point for an A, 90 for an A-, 87 for a B+ and so on. Grades will be continually updated on Canvas.

Your grade will be determined by several assignments, quizzes, projects, and exams, detailed below. With the flexibility of an online class comes the responsibility of keeping up with the work each week – please do not fall behind on the readings or assignments! All assignments have a distinct due date (found either in the course schedule below or in the appropriate Canvas module) – if an assignment is turned in after the due date, points will be deducted as follows:

- Within 24 hours: 10% deduction
- Within 48 hours: 25% reduction
- Greater than 48 hours: 0

If you are struggling to keep up with the workload or need an extension on a specific assignment, please visit me in office hours or send me an email so we can discuss the situation further.

ASSIGNMENTS, QUIZZES, EXAMS*Attendance and participation (15%)

Due to this class being delivered online, participation will need to be earned in a different way. Throughout the semester, you will be expected to keep a weekly journal. The journals can be submitted in a written format (minimum 250 words) or as a recorded, audio/video journal (minimum 2 minutes long). They will be submitted in our weekly Modules on Canvas or in the Assignments tab.

This journal is meant to be a place for you to engage with the course content in your own way, whether that be discussing what you found particularly interesting, listing questions you had while reading, or summarizing your thoughts about the week. I will review all posts and provide feedback when needed. A document with some thoughts to get you started can be found in the Resources Module on Canvas.

Journal entries are due the Sunday after the weekly readings are complete at 11:59pm, but can be turned in anytime during the week after you have finished the readings.

Critical Thinking Essays (15%)

Over the course of the semester, you will write 2 critical thinking essays. Each critical thinking essay will be 3-5 paragraphs in length in response to 1 of the Applying the Elements of Critical Thinking prompts found at the end of each chapter we cover. In order to provide you with the most flexibility, I am leaving the timetable for submitting these essays in your hands (mostly) – it is expected that you will turn in at least 1 essay by Week 7 (October 30). If you found a chapter of the book particularly interesting, respond to that chapter's question! Guidelines for writing an essay response in this format can be found in the Resources tab on Canvas.

Essays are due the Sunday after the weekly readings are complete for the chapter you decide to write on at 11:59pm

If you wish to write on federalism, for example, your essay would be due at the end of our discussion on federalism (September 25).

Quizzes (30%)

There will be a short (10-15 question) multiple-choice quiz on Canvas after we complete each chapter in this course. These quizzes are meant to assess your basic understanding of the concepts and to ensure that you are keeping up with the course reading. I fully expect you to have your textbook and notes with you while taking these quizzes - please work through the quizzes carefully in order to earn all of the points possible in this section of the course.

Quizzes are due the Sunday after the weekly readings are complete at 11:59pm, but can be completed anytime during the week after you have finished the readings.

Exams (40%)

There will be two exams in this course, a midterm exam (20%) and a final exam (20%). Exams will be taken on Canvas and will consist of multiple-choice/fill-in-the-blank questions and several short answer and essay questions. Again, I expect you to have your textbook and notes handy when taking these exams; however, unlike the quizzes, the exams will have a time limit and will require you to analyze many of the topics we have covered in your own words. Relying solely on the textbook and notes will not give you enough time to finish your exam – be sure to come prepared!

*Exams will be available until 11:59p on the exam date listed below.
Please check the course schedule right away to ensure that you are NOT going to miss an exam.*

American Government Pre-/Post-Test

On the first day of the semester (September 7) and on one of the last days of the semester (December 12), you will take an ungraded assessment which covers some of the material you will learn throughout the course of the semester. This assessment does not count toward your grade whatsoever; the department uses these assessments to gauge what material students knew coming into the course and what knowledge they left with upon completion.

Please take this pre-test prior to starting any of the assigned readings on September 7 and use the post-test on December 12 as an additional preparation tool for Exam II

Extra Credit!

I. Election Day is November 8!

To prepare to participate in the election, you will be able to earn extra credit by ensuring that you are registered to vote prior to Election Day. The process is rather straightforward and, in most cases, can be done online with your driver's license/state ID in hand.

- Go to <https://myvote.wi.gov/en-us/> and select the 'Register to Vote' tab. Here, it will ask you to enter in some simple information to check your registration status. Should you already be registered, please take a simple screen grab of your name and registration status. Do NOT include any personal information in your screen grab – I simply want to see your name and the status stating that you are registered.
  - If you are not registered yet, follow the 5-step online registration process
  - Online registration closes on October 19

Once registered, you will be able to find your polling location and download your ballot to see what races you will be voting in come November.

After ensuring that you are registered, I want you to write a short paragraph (approximately 300 words) describing your plan to vote - what issues are important to you, how/when will you find time on November 8, what else is on your ballot that you will need to vote on (referendums, for example). Your final submission should include the screen grab of your name/registration status and this short paragraph. This extra credit opportunity is due October 19.

Registering to vote will earn you 5 extra points on your lowest quiz grade to date and make it simple to go out and vote on November 8th – you will just need to bring your driver's license or state ID, as long as your address on the ID matches your registration address. If it does not, simply bring your ID and a piece of mail showing your name and registration address (electric bill, lease, etc.).

If you have any questions on what you will need to do come election day, please feel free to reach out during office hours or send me an email!

II. American Democracy Project (ADP) Events

The American Democracy Project (ADP) is meant to encourage civic engagement and awareness among college students. At the University of Wisconsin Oshkosh campuses, ADP runs voter registration drives, organizes candidate forums, sponsors relevant speakers, and encourages volunteerism and service learning. Should they host any events this semester, I will pass along the details to you and create a second extra credit opportunity.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion

Diversity drives innovation, creativity, and progress. At the University of Wisconsin Oshkosh, the culture, identities, life experiences, unique abilities, and talents of every individual contribute to the foundation of our success. Creating and maintaining an inclusive and equitable environment is of paramount importance to us. This pursuit prepares all of us to be global citizens who will contribute to the betterment of the world. We are committed to a university culture that provides everyone with the opportunity to thrive.

Students with Disabilities:

If you have or think you may have a learning difference or a disability – a mental health, medical, or physical impairment – that would limit your access to learning or demonstrating your knowledge in this course, please contact the Dean of Students Office. If you already have an accommodation, please let me know in the first week of class.

<https://www.uwosh.edu/deanofstudents/Accessibility-Center/faculty-and-staff-resources/syllabus-statement>

Academic Dishonesty:

A college education is intended to develop your skills, knowledge, and confidence. Graded assignments are designed to work on these items. Thus, to gain the skills, knowledge, and confidence of a college-educated person all graded work is to be your own. When you are directed to work alone, an assignment or test must be done by you, its primary ideas are to be your own, and any outside materials should be dealt with properly (quoted when using someone's words, and cited when quoting or referencing them in any other way). When your teacher directs you to work in teams, the work is to be done by the team. More information can be found here:

<https://uwosh.edu/politicalscience/wp-content/uploads/sites/14/2020/08/Academic-Honesty.pdf>

Center for Academic Resources:

The Center for Academic Resources (CAR) provides free, confidential tutoring for students in most undergraduate classes on campus. CAR is located in the Student Success Center, Suite 102. Check the Tutor List page on CAR's website (www.uwosh.edu/car) for a list of tutors. If your course is not listed, click on a link to request one, stop by SSC 102 or call 424-2290.

To schedule a tutoring session, simply email the tutor, let her/him know what class you are seeking assistance in, and schedule a time to meet.

Writing Center:

The Writing Center helps students of all ability levels improve their writing. Trained peer consultants help writers understand an assignment, envision possibilities for a draft, and improve their writing process. They even help writers learn to identify their own proofreading errors. Students can make a free appointment or stop by to see whether a consultant is available.

For more information, view their website (<http://www.uwosh.edu/wcenter>), call 920-424-1152, email wcenter@uwosh.edu, or visit them in Suite 102 of the Student Success Center.

Reading Study Center:

The Reading Study Center is an all-university service whose mission is to facilitate the development of efficient college-level learning strategies in students of all abilities. The center offers strategies for improved textbook study, time management, note-taking, test preparation, and test-taking.

For more information, email readingstudy@uwosh.edu, view the website (<http://www.uwosh.edu/readingstudycenter>), visit them in Nursing Ed Room 201, or call 424-1031.

Polk Library/Information Literacy:

You have been introduced to Information Literacy in your Quest Speaking and Writing courses. As a reminder, Polk Library offers many professional librarians who can help you find library resources for your research. Specifically, Ted Mulvey, the Information Literacy Librarian, is available to assist you as you access, evaluate, and use information in University Studies Program classes.

Phone: 920-424-7329; email: mulveyt@uwosh.edu. You may also set up a research advisory session with a librarian at: rap@uwosh.edu.

Food Assistance:

If you are in need of food assistance, you have campus resources available to you. Your Oshkosh Student Association (OSA) runs the campus food pantry, The Cabinet. It is open to all UWO students who express a need for food assistance. It is located in the lower level of the Reeve Memorial Union. Operational hours and additional information can be found on the OSA's Services Web-page. For questions and concerns, please contact the Food Pantry Director: foodpantry@uwosh.edu, or the OSA Office: osa@uwosh.edu; (920)-424-3202.

Student Right to Know Act (1990):

Students are advised to see the following URL for disclosures about essential consumer protection items required by the Student Right to Know Act of 1990:

<https://uwosh.edu/financialaid/consumer-information/>

CLASS SCHEDULE

This schedule is subject to change. Some of these topics and readings will require a bit more time than I have allotted, and some less; however, because we will be online this semester, it is important that we do our best to stay on schedule. In general, you should have the readings completed for the day they are assigned (if a reading is listed for 09/14, you should read it by that date).

Notes with asterisks (*) below indicate some things to think about when you are engaging with the materials found outside of the required textbook.
