Dean's Message

Dear Friends,

One of the benefits of the "Report to the Community" is that it allows us to pause a moment and reflect on the past year and recognize the accomplishments of our dedicated faculty, staff and others with whom we work.

We can certainly be proud of our accomplishments. As you read through these pages, you'll see examples of how our service-learning initiatives, our liberal arts agenda and our community partnerships bring the University of Wisconsin to Fond du Lac and the region.

Enrollments at UW-Fond du Lac continue to grow with 767 students registered for the fall 2006 semester. This is an increase in enrollment of 50% over the past decade; outstanding growth during an era of sharp budget cuts.

As we develop the creative and intellectual potential of the people in the region, our vision to provide educational and cultural opportunities with a personalized and technology rich experience for our students and the community is always before us and guides our efforts.

In the following pages it should become evident that the UW-Fond du Lac Foundation is building an effective infrastructure to help support the mission of the campus, while continuing to develop scholarship funds to support students. The Foundation Board, composed of community leaders and executives, has brought their experience, judgment and vision to the Board to serve the long term future of the campus as they work to build endowments and relationships that ensure the longevity and accessibility to UW-Fond du Lac in this community for the future.

We look forward to continued success in the future as we work together to achieve the educational goals of students in our community.

Thank you for your support of our campus. Together we will continue our collective efforts to ensure access to a quality University of Wisconsin educational and cultural experience in Fond du Lac.

Sincerely,

Dr. Daniel J. Blankenship
Dean and CEO

Liberal Education Agenda

In collaboration with the Association of American Colleges and Universities (AAC&U), Wisconsin has become a pilot state in the Liberal Education and America's Promise (LEAP) campaign to clarify and champion the value of a liberal education. UW-Fond du Lac is a campus action network partner in this initiative. The essential outcomes of a liberal education are for students to achieve the following:

- Knowledge of human cultures and the natural world
 - Intellectual and practical skills to include written and oral communication
 - Personal and social responsibilities including civic engagement
 - Integrative learning involving the adaptability to new situations and questions
- The mission of UW-Fond du Lac encompasses these outcomes as the objectives that we put forward to our students and our community.

Faculty & Staff Accomplishments

Jon Mark Bolthouse, automation librarian for the UW Colleges, presented a poster session on usability studies and website redesign at the annual End-User conference in Chicago. He is Chair of the Library Automation Managers group, a subset of the Council of University of Wisconsin Libraries and is a member of the Outreach Study Committee for the Fond du Lac Public Library. He has been elected Director at Large for the Wisconsin Library Association's MATS division.

Tom Clausen, IT director, was elected to the executive board of the Wisconsin Lions Foundation and will serve as president in 2008-2009.

Leanne Doyle, continuing education director, has received the designation of Certified Program Planner (CPP) in December 2006 from the Learning Resources Network (LERN), an international association in lifelong learning.

Patricia Eby, associate dean and music professor, was recognized as one of the leaders in vocal jazz in the state by Wisconsin Music Educator's Conference (WMEC). She was also selected as Vocal Jazz Conductor for the Steve Zegree Vocal Jazz Camp at Western Michigan University.

Richard Gustin, theatre and communication arts professor, presented at the Association for Theatre in Higher Education – (ATHE) national conference in Chicago, IL in August 2006.

Paisley Harris, history professor, presented a public talk on blues singer Ma Rainey, gave a paper on Chautauquas at the Northern Great Plains History Conference and is serving as co-chair of the Great Decisions Committee which brings lectures on foreign policy to the Fond du Lac community.

Elizabeth Hayes, biology professor, completed the National Science Foundation Chautauqua course, "Making Undergraduate Science Courses More Applicable to Future Health Care Professionals" in August 2006.

Michael Jurmu, geography and geology professor, presented at the American Association of Geographers

(AAG) conference in Chicago, IL in March 2006. He collaborated with Gail Roberts from UW-Extension on a $100,000 grant from ESRI for GIS software and supplemental materials.

John Kiefer, assistant campus dean for administrative services, completed the second (and final) level of the Collegiate Management Institute's (CMI) Leadership Training Program in May 2006. CMI is associated with the Central Association of Colleges and Universities Business Officers.

Laurie Krasin, university relations director, is on the board of the Fond du Lac Chapter of Women in Management and serves as publicity chair.

Todd Mountjoy, library director, completed the Association of Commerce Leadership Fond du Lac program in May 2006.

Mary Rieder, director of library support services for the UW Colleges, was elected East Central District Representative of the Wisconsin State Genealogical Society (WSGS) and serves on the WSGS Governing Board. She is also a member of the WSGS Program and Education Committee and brought their seminar to the UW-Fond du Lac campus.

Sayeed Payesteh, business/economics professor, presented his paper "Do the Budget Deficits Matter?" at the 2006 European Applied Business Research Conference held in Florence, Italy in June 2006.

Linda Reiss, assistant campus dean for student services, served as member of the NEWERA (Northeastern Wisconsin

New Faculty

Rachel S. Knighten, assistant professor of world languages (Spanish), has an M.A. from the University of Washington-Seattle. Among her professional experiences, Knighten participated in UW-Madison's project to publish all sixteenth century editions of "Celestina."

R. Carey Woodward, assistant professor of physics, completed his Ph.D. in physics at UW-Madison with minors in astronomy, mathematics and computer science after doing his undergraduate work at Yale. Woodward taught at UW-Fox Valley for several years, where he established the Fox Valley Physics Club.

Educational Resource Alliance) CEO Council and was active on the NEWERA Enrollment Management Team. She co-developed and launched the act! Program, an alternative teacher certification program for mid-career professionals who wish to teach secondary mathematics or natural science.

John Scotello, art professor, had six solo exhibitions of his paintings and drawings across the state of Wisconsin, as well as having work contained in two nationally recognized group shows of up and coming artists. He serves on the board of the Fond du Lac Arts Council and Bravo Theater Company.

Mary Weishapple, program & theater manager, served her third year as a captain for the Fond du Lac Area United Way Campaign. She is also on the program & events committee for the Association of Commerce's Young Professionals organization.

The Best Start for Student Success

Supporting student success inside and outside of the classroom is a top priority at UW-Fond du Lac. Statistics continue to show that our students are well prepared to succeed when they transfer to a four year school or remain at UW-Fond du Lac as part of a bachelor's degree completion program.

Engaging Students in the First Year (ESFY)

A unique three-day immersion course has been developed for incoming first year students. This course is offered just prior to the beginning of the fall semester and uses the classic novel Frankenstein by Mary Shelley as the common reading. Ten faculty and staff are involved as teachers. Students have the opportunity to work closely together in the course and receive a challenging start to undergraduate studies and a solid and successful transition from high school to college.

In addition, the campus began offering sections of LEC 100 (some linked with another course, some stand-alone) to help first-semester students make the transition into college. The courses promote active learning, life management skills, and engagement on campus in small-class settings and are intended to foster student success.

Service-learning

In the past year, 152 UW-Fond du Lac students completed 1,230 service hours in the community.

Our campus is proud of ongoing service-learning partnerships that are in place with Woodlands Senior Park, the Boys and Girls Club, Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Fond du Lac, the Volunteer Center of Fond du Lac County and many others.

Service-learning is different from volunteering and internships in that the service is tied to course curriculum. Students get the opportunity to practice skills learned in the classroom in the "real world" and the community benefits from having needs met.

Last year, students in a geography course taught elementary school students about weather and climate. Students in a history course worked with the local historical society on their Traveling Trunks program. Students in a sociology course interviewed older adults about the history of consumerism.

Another important and active community relationship is the UW-Fond du Lac mentorship program.

The campus partners with Big Brothers/Big Sisters on a school based mentoring program. A second program has UW-Fond du Lac students assisting in various elementary schools as in-classroom assistants to teachers. Finally, UW-Fond du Lac students have the opportunity to adopt a grandparent in partnership with Woodlands Senior Park.

Study Abroad

As part of the study abroad program, 42 students and community members traveled to Huatulco, Mexico, in March 2006. This eight day and three credit learning adventure combined exposure to the Spanish language, study of the ecology of the area, photographic and drawing techniques for recording botanical information and an introduction to the culture of southern Mexico.

The Liberal Arts Experience

UW-Fond du Lac believes strongly in the foundations of a liberal arts education which prepares students to think, to appreciate, to live, to serve and to lead. Because of this, an important emphasis is placed on lectures, performing arts, visual arts, music, student activities and athletics as part of the UW-Fond du Lac experience.

Performing Arts

There were numerous opportunities for students to experience the arts in 2006, either as a performer, behind-the-scenes contributor or audience member. Admission to most of the performances is free for UW-Fond du Lac students.

The theater department presented Last Train to Nibroc and Brighton Beach Memoirs in the Prairie Theater.

Mostly Mozart and the annual holiday concert Messiah-sing were just two examples of the many performances offered by the music department.

UW-Fond du Lac's music department features a chorus, vocal jazz ensemble and is the home to the Fond du Lac Chamber Singers. The Collegiate Wind Ensemble, a joint collaboration with students from Marian College, also performs at the campus.

Visual Arts

A strong visual arts program at UW-Fond du Lac in 2006 featured internationally recognized artists exhibiting in the Visual Arts Gallery.

Over $1,700 for student art scholarships was raised by the newly created Art Students League at a cutting edge celebration of art called Art Momentum in May 2006 which received statewide attention.

This student run, student juried event combined visual art, music, education and professional artistic growth. A professional panel of nationally known artists judged the student works and awarded prizes.

Lecture Series

A lecture series showcasing faculty research interests and areas of expertise is ongoing. In 2006, the campus also hosted Wisconsin Poet Laureate Denise Sweet as part of the First Nation Series which included poetry, music, history and discussions of current political issues facing Wisconsin area Indian nations.

Athletics

The athletic program at UW-Fond du Lac offers something many universities can't - the chance to play immediately. In 2006, the men's soccer team was Wisconsin Collegiate Conference (WCC) champ and the golf team was runner up.

At the spring 2006 awards banquet Dan Spanbauer (Oshkosh West) and Amanda Saeger-Frei (Markesan) were named student-athletes of the year.

Daryl Zupke (NFDL) and Amanda Hernandez (Campbellsport) received scholar-athlete of the year awards.

Getting into the "Zone..."

The Student Work Zone is a multi-functional campus facility dedicated to the academic, career exploration and wellness needs of students. The Work Zone provides a wide array of free, drop-in services to assist students to succeed on campus. Approximately 413 students per month use the services provided. For fall 2006, tutoring was provided for 22 courses and 148 students participated in health screenings.

Academic Success Center - provides tutoring, workshops, and study groups designed to enrich student life academically, culturally, and socially and to ensure that students experience a nurturing learning environment while adjusting to college life. Services are provided by experienced and qualified staff, including student and faculty tutors.

Career Exploration Center - provides UW-Fond du Lac students the opportunity to find answers to questions like, "How can I find the major right for me and the kind of life I want? What can I do with my major? How do I find that perfect job? What do I do now and later to get me to the kind of career I want?"

Health and Wellness Services - The connection between mind, body, and spirit is profound with each component supporting success or problems in the other. It is difficult for students to be academically successful when they are stressed out, over-committed, coping (or not) with personal or relationship problems, or feeling sick. Staffed by health professionals, the Wellness Office provides quality information, health screenings and the chance to meet with a counselor just to talk when needed.

A group of UW-Fond du Lac students participated in the Team Trivia contest and fundraiser sponsored by Fond du Lac Adult Literacy Services. The event was held in the University Center Commons in February 2006.

"The main reason I decided to attend UW-Fond du Lac was its affordability for the great education I would receive. Extracurricular activities and the great professors, together, have made my college experience very enjoyable. In total, UW-Fond du Lac is the best investment of my life."

Prairie Fest

The fourth annual Prairie Fest, an educational event held the last Saturday in July, attracted over 300 people in 2006. The Fest included a walk/run event in the morning, prairie tours throughout the day, a plant sale, numerous presentations and entertainment and food. Prairie Fest 2007 is scheduled for July 28, and the community is invited to attend.

Gottfried Arboretum

The Gottfried Arboretum at UW-Fond du Lac continued to prosper in 2006. New trails were added and signage was updated throughout the 37 acre prairie restoration project.

UW-Fond du Lac, in partnership with the Gottfried Arboretum, is in the process of adding a series of trails through the entire campus which will provide hiking and biking opportunities to the community. Completion of the trails is scheduled for the summer of 2008.

Through grants from the Natural Resources Foundation and We Energies, the Arboretum staff produced four programs to educate the community on native plants. These programs were presented to various organizations in the Fond du Lac community, and will continue to be available on request.

Engaging the Community

A strong partnership between UW-Fond du Lac and the local community is beneficial to both. UW-Fond du Lac is committed to being an academic and cultural resource for local residents.

Cultural and Academic Enrichment

The 2006 Performing Arts Series included the internationally touring Core Ensemble presenting Ain't I a Woman in celebration of Black History Month and a trio of musicians from the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra providing a beautiful evening of chamber music.

Several theater department and music department performances rounded out the season.

The cost for the public to attend events in the series is affordable thanks to the sponsors - CitizensFirst Credit Union, UW-Fond du Lac Foundation and UW-Fond du Lac Student Life and Interest Committee.

The expertise of our professors and invited speakers was shared with the community through a wide variety of lectures on topics such as Savant Syndrome, working with Geographic Information Systems, medical ethics and much more.

Continuing Education

The UW-Fond du Lac Continuing Education program is one of the largest and strongest in the state. During the past year, 3,279 adults and youth in the area have taken advantage of a wide range of programs.

Continuing Education hosts several conferences and specialized programs including the ever-popular College for Kids and LEAPS! summer youth programs.

In collaboration with the FVHCA (Fox Valley Health Care Alliance), Continuing Education was the recipient of a $26,500 Program Innovation Fund grant from the UW-Extension and UW Colleges. The HEY! (Healthcare Exploration for Youth) project will create an interactive website designed especially for middle school students to pique their interest in careers in the healthcare professions.

For the second year, UW-Fond du Lac Continuing Education, in collaboration with numerous community partners, hosted a Girls+Math+Science=

The Girls+Math+Science=Opportunities conference offered area middle school girls the opportunity to explore career options in math and science.

Opportunities conference attended by 216 middle school girls in November 2006. This was an increase of 54% over the attendance the previous year.

The conference was a collaboration between UW-Fond du Lac Continuing Education and local community organizations including Aurora Health Care, Fond du Lac Area Foundation, Northeast Wisconsin Area Health Education Center, St. Agnes Hospital Foundation, AAUW American Association of University Women, Fond du Lac Public Library, Girl Scouts of Manitou Council, Mercury Marine, Moraine Park Technical College, and UW-Extension 4-H.

Community Connections

This campus continues to be a resource for our community in many ways. During 2006, health seminars, employee training, a scholarship pageant, fish boils and a cross country meet were just a few of the events held at the campus.

The University Center Commons is a popular setting for fundraisers. Fond du Lac Adult Literacy, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, Service League, the Gottfried Arboretum Committee and many other organizations hosted their events at the campus generating much needed funds for a wide range of community needs.

Many area businesses take advantage of the state-of-the-art campus facilities available including the Commons, computer labs, Large Group Instruction Room, Prairie Theater and more.

Alumni Connections

What do you get when you take eight UW-Fond du Lac Alumni and put them in a room to create the UW-Fond du Lac Alumni Association board of directors? FUN!

Since the campus first opened in 1968, nearly 20,000 Fond du Lac area community members have attended UW-Fond du Lac for at least one semester. They are all considered alumni of the campus.

Many UW-Fond du Lac alumni do not consider themselves alumni of the campus. Although, most have told me that the experience they had while attending UW-Fond du Lac really helped prepare them for the remainder of their academic career.

When I talk to alumni I hear about the professor that helped guide them in making a successful career decision, or the time they spent playing ball for Coach Knar, or how wonderful it was to start at UW-Fond du Lac.

The UW-Fond du Lac Alumni Association was established in 2004 to provide a channel of communication between the campus and its alumni. Specifically, the Alumni Association is actively involved in planning activities that give the alumni an opportunity to reconnect with the campus.

In 2006, the Alumni Association jointly hosted an alumni basketball and recognition event with the campus athletic department and coordinated a trip to the Timber Rattlers game in August. Planned thus far for 2007 are a basketball game featuring campus alumni in early 2007 and the annual Distinguished Alumni award reception in May.

Even though these exciting events offer alumni the opportunity to reconnect with their fellow classmates and the campus, it is difficult to reach all alumni. The Alumni Association is working on the creation of on-going communication channels through newsletters and the campus web site.

If you are an alumnus of UW-Fond du Lac, consider joining the fun by contacting me at (920) 929-7657 or uwfdlalumni@uwc.edu. I look forward to hearing your alumni story!

UW-Fond du Lac Foundation

As a non-profit organization, governed by a board of directors that includes community leaders representing business, education, government, healthcare and alumni, the UW-Fond du Lac Foundation plays a critical role in connecting the campus and community. We no longer want UW-Fond du Lac to be the best kept secret in higher education. Instead, we want to share with the community the good work the campus does and encourage the community's ongoing support for its mission.

As volunteer board members and staff of the UW-Fond du Lac Foundation, we are excited and challenged by the task of helping support campus initiatives that would not otherwise be possible without private donations. In an era of shrinking state support, the Foundation plays an important role in providing scholarships that help make higher education accessible and affordable for all, while supporting programs and projects that strengthen the University.

In 2006, the Foundation took on an increased role in supporting events and programming that engages the University with the community. Generous gifts from private donors support the important work of the Foundation by providing scholarships, grants to faculty and staff, sponsorship of campus events, and an endowment fund that positions the campus to take advantage of opportunities and initiatives that better serves our students and the Fond du Lac area.

The people who attend UW-Fond du Lac are our friends and neighbors.

As one of those business leaders and alumni of UW-Fond du Lac, I hope you will join me in making a gift that sustains and supports the excellent educational and cultural opportunities available on the campus.

Best Regards,

With a Caring Heart... Helping Others

"She had an excellent mind, a radiant smile, a caring heart and made great German chocolate cake" is how Joyce Joanne Heiden is described by her mother. Joyce understood the importance of education and the value of pursuing goals. At the age of 58, after a five-year battle with cancer, Joyce Joanne Heiden died. In 2003, Dr. Joan Regan, Joyce's mother, created the Joyce Joanne Heiden Scholarship for Single Mothers to honor her daughter and help women of similar circumstance pursue their educational dreams and be shining examples to their children.

Spirit of Excellence Award

2006 Recipients

Harold “Danny” and Charmaine LaShay

The Spirit of Excellence Award is presented by the UW-Fond du Lac Foundation for exceptional commitment to making UW-Fond du Lac an excellent learning institution.

The first Spirit of Excellence Award was presented to Harold “Danny” and Charmaine LaShay during the fall donor and scholarship reception for their dedication and sustained support to UW-Fond du Lac. The LaShay’s have annually sponsored a scholarship since 1986 and have contributed more than 25 years of volunteer service to UW-Fond du Lac and UW-Fond du Lac Foundation.

When the five-member Fond du Lac Citizens’ Committee met with the Coordinating Committee for Higher of Wisconsin (CCHE) in January of 1966 to discuss the establishment of a university-affiliated campus in Fond du Lac, Danny LaShay was one of the five. He was actively involved in making UW-Fond du Lac a reality from that point on.

With a mission and purpose of providing high quality education at a low cost to qualified students of the greater Fond du Lac area, UW-Fond du Lac opened its doors in the fall of 1968. The original mission and purpose of the campus still holds true today.

The involvement and commitment of Mr. LaShay to UW-Fond du Lac did not end with the opening of the campus. In fact, he is a founding member of the UW-Fond du Lac Foundation board of directors, serving approximately 25 years.

As a gift to his wife in 1986, Danny began the Charmaine L. LaShay Music Scholarship at UW-Fond du Lac and they have been donating annually to that scholarship for 20 years.

A consistent theme permeates their life story; commitment, family, service and community. It was our honor to recognize Danny and Charmaine for these wonderful values. We remain grateful for their ongoing commitment to excellence at UW-Fond du Lac.

Scholarships... the foundation of support for UW-Fond du Lac students

Each year, UW-Fond du Lac Foundation awards scholarships to deserving students. We are thankful for the many generous gifts received each year that make these scholarships possible. If you would like to find out how to create, or support an existing UW-Fond du Lac scholarship, contact the UW-Fond du Lac Foundation office at (920) 929-7657 or uwfdl.foundation@uwc.edu.
